Yukon Quest Day Three Update #2

Monday, February 7, 2011 (Whitehorse, YT & Fairbanks, AK) - The frontrunners are in the “communications black hole” between Stepping Stone and Dawson City and the area is living up to its reputation. We have had difficulty getting up-to-date Spot information on Hugh Neff, the front runner.

According to the latest Spot check at 20:02, Hugh Neff is still in front. He is going for the gold – the first in to Dawson City will be awarded 4 ounces of gold nuggets by long-time sponsor and local placer mine Fell-Hawke Placer.

Hans Gatt’s latest spot at 22:01 showed him about 10 miles before Scroggie. At 22:52 Ken Anderson is 20 miles before Scroggie; Brent Sass is right behind him. Wade Marrs is not far behind.

Allen Moore and Sebastian Schnuelle are running closely together. There is a group of teams next: Dallas Seavey, Michelle Phillips, Dan Kaduce and Kelley Griffin and a little further behind, Josh Cadzow.

Further behind is another grouping: Jody Bailey, Mike Ellis and David Dalton followed by Johannes Ryhg .

Clint Warnke left Pelly at 23:54

Still in Pelly Crossing are Didier Moggia, Tamara Rose, Hank DeBruin, Jerry Joinson.

Still to arrive at the Pelly Checkpoint are Christine Roalofs and Kyla Durham.

Denis Tremblay and Allen Dennis scratched.
