YQ300 Re-route

February 2, 2016 (Fairbanks, AK) – Due to jumble ice sections between Circle and the turnaround point which is around 40-miles upriver, the YQ300 has been re-routed.

The YQ300 mushers will race back to Central from Circle, instead of continuing up the Yukon River as originally planned. The organization has determined travelling over these jumble sections twice is not in the best interest of the dogs or the mushers. The overall mileage remains essentially the same.
